Delivering interoperability in the Single European Railway Area

The European Rail Traffic Management System has now reached a level of maturity and stability to permit rapid deployment, which will help to reduce operating costs and improve the competitiveness of rail, believes Michel van Lieferinge.

The evolution of ETMS must accommodate additional functionality around a backwards-compatible core.

More than 1 billion train-km have now been operated using ETMS-equipped trains.